DETAILED ACTION

Claim Objections

Claim 1 is objected to because of the following informalities: it is unclear to the Examiner exactly what Applicant is trying to convey with "supporting the cable not to be contacted to the bus bar circuit except the pressure-welding edge". For examination purposes the Examiner shall assume supporting the cable not to be contacted to the bus bar circuit". Appropriate correction is required.

Claim 2 recites the limitation "the vicinity" in line 2; claim 3 recites the limitations "the top" and "the bottom" and claim 4 recites the limitations "the top" and "the state". There is insufficient antecedent basis for these limitations in the claims.

As a courtesy to the applicant, the examiner has "objected" to the claims. However, In order to avoid a 35 USC § 112 rejection, appropriate correction is required in response to this office action.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 1- 5 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Applicant's Admitted Prior Art (AAPA)^{Fig 1+2} or JP202 124340. AAPA discloses a bracket comprising: a connector housing 101 having a cable wiring surface 101a onto which a cable is wired; a bus bar circuit disposed in an exposed state on the cable wiring surface (page 1, lines 21-24); a pressure welding edge 103 formed on the bus bar circuit for connecting the cable to the bus bar circuit by pressure welding; and a lower cable support rib (not numbered in AAPA fig.1) disposed on the cable wiring surface for supporting the cable.

Regarding claim 2, the support rib is disposed in the vicinity of the bus bar circuit.

Regarding claim 3, the lower cable support rib is configured so as to be higher than a top surface of the bus bar circuit and lower than a bottom surface of the cable pressure-welded to the pressure welding edges, as shown in fig 2.

Regarding claim 4, AAPA discloses a cover 102 disposed on the connector housing for covering the cable wiring surface; and an upper cable support rib (not numbered, shown in fig. 1) and disposed on the internal surface of the cover and configured to be high enough to abut the top surface of the cable when the cover is mounted.

Regarding claim 5, AAPA discloses first cable-end support portions disposed on both ends of the connector housing (see attachment of fig. 1.) and second cable-end support portions disposed on both ends of the cover (see attachment of fig. 1.) for supporting the cable to be disposed "approximately" parallel with the cable wiring surface above the bus bar circuits, in cooperation with the first cable-end support portions.

Conclusion

The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. Locati 5,122,079, Yasui et al. 5,044,553, Kosugi et al. 4,641,904, Dale et al. 4,997,388 and Liu et al. 5,041,007 were cited for similar connectors.
